

KNIGHTS TO OPEN CONVENTION HERE THIS MORNING

Entertainment and Smoker for Early Arrivals Held Last Night

The first entertainment for visiting Knights of Columbus who are here for the state convention today, tomorrow and Sunday, was held at St. Mary's hall last night. There were a number of local Knights as well as delegates from Santa Fe, Gallup and Las Vegas present.

The program for the evening was four short amateur bouts of boxing between local boys. This was followed by a smoker and several get-together for the visitors. The program for the convention was read, and copies of it distributed.

A few of the delegates from other towns arrived yesterday afternoon and last night. Among these early arrivals were state-deputy George J. Herman of Las Vegas, the highest officer of New Mexico district, deputy V. L. Jones from Gallup; district treasurer Dr. W. H. Tipton, of Las Vegas; state secretary William Streicher, of Gallup.

Several automobile loads of people arrived from Gallup yesterday, and two cars arrived from Las Vegas. The rest of the Las Vegas delegation will arrive early this morning, and about 30 more persons are expected to arrive this morning from Gallup.

Practically the entire delegation from Santa Fe will also arrive this afternoon. It is expected that there will be close to 400 Knights here after all arrive.

All of the Knights who are here will attend mass in a body this morning at 7 o'clock. The formal opening of the convention by the state deputy will be at Moose hall at 10 o'clock. The convention will adjourn about immediately, and at 10 o'clock the first degree initiation will begin.

In the afternoon, the second and third degree initiations will take place at the Moose hall. The convention banquet will be held at the armory at 6:30 o'clock this evening. Places are being set for between 400 and 450 guests.

O. N. Martin will be in charge of the program at the banquet, and will preside as toastmaster.

There will be an extensive musical program and a number of talks will be made. E. F. Davies of Santa Fe, will respond to a toast, "The Knight of Columbus." On each degree will be a toast, "The Leader," and D. S. Sims of Santa Fe will speak on the fourth degree assembly of the Knights of Columbus.

The business session of the program will be held on Monday. On Tuesday the exemplification of the fourth degree will take place, and a fourth degree assembly for the state will be formally organized.

The members of the convention will be entertained by a series of automobile rides and teas while the different degree work is going on.

ONE BLOCK BLACK BASE PAVING IN CITY COMPLETED

CITY RECEIVES NEW WATER LINES FOR OTHER STREETS

The first block of black base paving in Albuquerque was completed yesterday.

The base of the paving was laid on High street between Central and Gold avenue Friday and the surface put on yesterday. According to City Engineer Frank Kimball the block will be open to traffic at once, and the building commenced within 60 days.

The intersection at Gold avenue and High street has closed until the end of the week.

All new water lines which were ordered for the other streets in the paving program have been delivered and will be laid without delay, so paving of the other streets can be begun without unnecessary delay after work on South High street is completed.

WORM BLIGHT HITS TREES AND SHRUBS IN FAIRVIEW CEMETERY

A species of worms which invaded Fairview cemetery did much damage to grass, trees and shrubs before it was discovered and a way found to kill it.

It had just gotten a good start and trees and shrubs that were doing finely were suddenly blighted and for a time it was a puzzle to the management of the cemetery. However, with the co-operation of the forestry service the species of worm was discovered and spraying begun, which it is believed has killed out the worm. It will require several weeks work, however, to restore things as they were.

There are now some 75 lots planted to grass and over a thousand trees and shrubs have been set out and the cemetery is being made into one of the beauty spots of the section of the country.

The roads in the cemetery are being paved and ornamental fence and gateway is to be erected within a few days.
